CAREERS IN INTERNATIONAL LAW

A Guide to Career Paths in International Law (2009-2010)

Published by the American Society of International Law

Advice from the experts

Personal insights from NGO, government, and private sector professionals

Information on internship, fellowship, and pro bono opportunities

The Guide contains essays in which seasoned practitioners share their experiences and offer advice concerning career paths in public and private international law fields, including areas such as international justice, human rights, international arbitration, family law, international development, dispute resolution, and legal education. Detailed information and descriptions from more than 75 organizations and institutions that offer a variety of internships, fellowships and pro bono work are provided, as are procedures for applying to them.
