Multinational Sources Compared: A Subject and Jurisdiction Index by Alena L. Wolotira & Sherry L. Leysen is a finding aid designed to direct researchers to sources that compare multiple jurisdictions on focused subjects. These print and electronic sources contain full-text legislation, statutory citation, or other references to primary law.

This title, now available in its second edition, is based on Professor Jon Schultz's Statutes Compared: A U.S., Canadian, Multinational Research Guide to Statutes by Subject (2nd ed. 2001) and Multinational Statutes Compared: A Research Guide to Statutes by Subject (2003). These publications gave extensive reviews of each selected source to give the researcher an idea of what the resource contained before trying to obtain it.

Many works referenced in the original titles have since changed titles, scope, authors, and publishers and the authors found it difficult to obtain physical copies of many of these resources. Wolotira and Leysen, have, therefore, changed the scope of their review, and the content included.

New to the Second Edition

The new second edition continues to consult English-language legal information publishers and sift through their product offerings, adding publishers to the review list along the way. Many legacy titles are still updated and maintained, while others remain accessible to researchers in certain formats but are no longer updated. Additionally, "global guides" are moving away from offering a traditional bound volume, to a flexible practitioner-written "Q&A guide" format. Also, this edition incorporates comparative monographs, which typically feature a collection of jurisdictional essays written on a specific and focused topic.

Other updates are designed to make the work easier to use. For example, while the first edition began the author/editor field with the first author or editor's last name, the author/editor field in the second edition has been changed to conform with Rule 15 of The Bluebook (21st ed. 2021). In addition, this edition includes conforming the different types of monographs or supplements to the descriptor "bound volume," and making the list of format types more consistent.

"I find it hard to imagine that anyone else has had occasion to physically examine the entire treatise collection of so many of the great law libraries in some detail. At the very least, I did something that nobody else has done."

- Jon S. Schultz, Preface from Multinational Statutes Compared: A Research Guide to Statutes by Subject

What's Found in Multinational Sources Compared: A Subject and Jurisdiction Index

Product Offering Reviews

The authors consulted English-language legal information publishers and sifted through their product offerings.

These publishers include:

- ABA
- ALI
- Bloomberg BNA
- Cambridge University Press
- Cameron May
- Edward Elgar
- Gale/Cengage
- Global Legal Group
- Hart
- Juris Publishing
- Law Business Research

- Oxford University Press
- Sage
- Thomson Reuters/Sweet & Maxwell/Oceana/Clark Boardman Callaghan/Practising Law Institute
- Wiley
- Wolters Kluwer/Aspen/CCH

The scope in Multinational Sources Compared is expanded to different types of resources and formats but excluded treatises discussing only one or two jurisdictions as these are easy to find in a library catalog/on the Internet by searching for the country and the subject.

Jurisdiction Indexes

Entries from the previous title included the resource's title, publisher information, and a description. To enhance the usefulness and function of this resource, the authors expanded the entries to include additional data points, most notably jurisdictions covered. The coverage here is comprehensive. The authors checked tables of contents and publishers' descriptions, and also reviewed titles that were in print to compile each resource's jurisdiction list.

News Subjects Added

The second edition includes many new subject headings. Also included are the two previous print editions in HeinOnline's fully searchable format:

- Multinational Statutes Compared: A Research Guide to Statutes by Subject (2003) - Jon S. Schultz
- Statutes Compared: A U.S., Canadian, Multinational Research Guide to Statutes by Subject, 2nd ed. (2001) - Jon S. Schultz

The subject headings and jurisdictions explored in this database cover a broad basis for comparative legal research. The sources selected for each subject or jurisdiction have been vetted by editors for their usefulness and comprehensiveness-they should help with both common and rare questions.
